Intense FDG uptake in the mediastinum and bilateral hilar lymph nodes are consistent with reactive disease due to the lung infection.
PET/CT findings

PET/CT scan findings are consistent with reactive hilar and mediastinal lymphadenopathy due to left upper lobe lung infection (which is also metabolically active - arrow).

http://humanhealth.iaea.org